MICHAEL D. BODMAN

Dear Mike,

I really don't know where to begin. We've shared so many good times together in the last (Holy Shit) 11 years together. We became friends early on (I think in Kindergarten) and from then I've always considered you to be my most trusted friend. I knew even then that you were special, and that you were the type of person that everyone wants as their best friend. I consider myself lucky and honored that I got to know you so well, and share both good + bad times. As we go our separate ways now, I really don't feel sad that I won't be seeing you because in my mind I'm hoping that we will be friends for life. I know that it would be one of the worst mistakes of my life if I let you slip out of my life. If I didn't express myself well here in writing, I'm sure you know how I feel. I trust you, ~~re~~ respect you, and love you and most important of all, did my ~~first~~ shotgun with you in Niantic.

At EHS, ~~the~~ we had some great times. The one that best exemplifies our friendship, I think, is the painting of the rock that very first time. We took a chance and broke some rules but we did it together. That's how I feel now, as long as you're there with me, no matter what ~~I do~~ everything ~~could~~ seems ~~seemed~~ to turn out great. To paint the rock, we had to trust each other, sneak away together and do the act together. Someone else might have bragged about it, but we kept our mouths shut, and the prank worked out terrific. Again, I hope you clearly understand what I'm trying so hard to say.

Tomorrow I leave for Washington U., I shut the door on Edgemont and open a new one in St. Louis. If I could take only one thing w/ me through that door, it would be our friendship. You're the best Bidwell I know. You'll do great out in California, and I wish you all the luck in the world.

Take Care + Do Good

Dear Mike,
Can you believe we're done? It's such a wierd feeling — I'm psyched and sad at the same time. I can't wait for college but I don't want to leave all my friends. I don't believe you'll be all the way in California. You better keep in touch. I'm really happy that we became such better friends this year. You're one of the people I'm really going to miss. There's something about you that everyone loves and respects. You're a terrific person and have a great personality. Remember all of senior year: AP English, the prom, getting drunk together... I'm going to miss it all. Have a great summer and a terrific time at Stanford. You deserve it all! Thanks for being such a great friend!
Love always,
Suzanne

Her hand rests on the door knob. Slowly, she turns it. She pulls, full of fear and yet overflowing with curiosity and steps beyond into a world full of new experiences. The corridor she walks now holds many more doors for her to open. They wait, patiently. Some she will pass by never to think of again. Others she will open with the same trepidation and excitement with which she unlocked that first door. Each time she opens a door, she will be taking a chance, but life is full of gambles. Behind every door there is something to be gained. Never pass by that chance to open a new door, because each door leads to a passage, which leads to a door, which leads to a . . .

—William Blake

The trail goes ever on and on
Down from the door where it began.
Now far ahead the trail has gone,
And I must follow, if I can,
Pursuing it with eager feet, until it joins
some larger way,
Where many paths and errands meet.
And whither then? I cannot say.

So, the time that I have been dreading is here. Time to write . . . my write-up. Everything seems so final. I Hate good-byes. How can I possibly write everything I want my friends and myself to remember? How can I write everything I feel? If I started, I could go on forever. For example: Israel '85, Mohawk '86, the dinky run, finger dancing, a lovely night on the patio with EH,SB, & DM, interesting conversation around the track, dancing alone in my living room, I could go on Silver Streaks, Mrs. McThing, BBG etc. So

Meme: Early nerd friend, thanx for putting up w/MrH talk
Steven: You know too much good luck graduating
Ken: thanx for a lot of advice and a lot of rides
Rob: Evenings in the bobmobile, thanx for being a very special friend
Eric S.: one of my earliest friends, take care
Eric H.: What can I say? We really should get married.
Amanda: Remember I'll always be here for you — invite me to the wedding ILU
Suzanne and Lynne: My two bestest friends — I love you!!! Thanks for putting up with me xxxxxxxoooooooo
Mom&Dad: Sorry it wasn't so easy sometimes but, you know I love you
Matt: Thanx for believing in me and trusting me I LOVE YOU Oh yeah . . . . . BUCKY — how's your toe????

"Tips to Writing a Good Senior Write-Up" — by Keith M. Swartz

1. Try to be original. For instance, this is not original: KMS (What's the M?) . . . S-w (no "ch") . . . Dr. Hyperbola . . . Dr. Solo!! Me, JB, & best friend BC ("Busy?") . . . SC&JS: Rappin' in the "alcove" BIGGER BROTHER 85/86 w/ BC . . . Me, BC,WH,SS, JY,MM: GREASE PIT '85!!

This is: Match the activity with the person:

1) U.Q. of the Univ. & Chem. labs	a) S. Shick
2) ½ hr. phone message & Genesis	b) M. Winokur
3) Back massages & All-State	c) G. Lucas
4) 400 cards/no Prsche & "The Team"	d) D. Mohan
5) Star Wars & Jaws	e) I. Rosenstein

2. Give credit where it is due (Without Whom Dept.):
Dr. Gast — from SAS & missing +C's to ARML & Hyper-Advanced Math . . . Mrs. G/Ms. W — from KAREL & disk-mending to COBOL & rule-bending . . . Mr. H (& family) — from Music Arranger & Marche Slav to 1st Suite & fire drills at Philly (etc.) . . . Mom, Dad, & Grandma — uh, . . . thanks.
3. Try to use original quotes, in varying contexts:

Philosophical: "If an infinite number of monkeys sat typing at an infinite number of typewriters, the smell in the room would be unbearable."
— David Letterman

Profound: "Infinity is even, of course, because the number before it has to be all nines." — I. Rosenstein

Proverbial: "You can't have everything . . . where would you put it?"
— Steven Wright

4. Finally, your closing words should be moving and everlasting: Goodbye, Edgemont, and thank you. If you're ever in town, stop by and say hello . . . we'll do lunch sometime.

— Luv & kisses, Keith

RIKA NAKAJIMA ▶

I came to Edgemont from Tokyo, when I was in 8th grade. It took a little while to get used to Edgemont. I was totally lost being unable to speak English during the first year, but as time went by, the pressures which I had experienced were gone, and I found myself with some confidence to overcome any obstacles. My experience of a new culture, of new school life and tennis camp at Concordia with Anock have all contributed to my growth and development as a person which will help me in my future. I really appreciate my parents for their bringing me here and supporting me. I could never have made it without them. I am also appreciating all my teachers who helped me, especially Mrs. McGuigan, Mrs. Levinson and Mrs. Bloomquist.

Phaedrus, the Alternative Program at Edgemont High School, is a democratically run school offered to the eleventh and twelfth graders who represent a wide range of academic abilities and interests. Begun in 1978, Phaedrus features group activities, small seminar-type classes, field trips, guest speakers, internships, and two camping trips a year, epitomizing the fundamental beliefs of the school: education can take place outside of the classroom as well as inside.

The 1986-87 faculty was comprised of Judy Cook, Mary Jane Pelz, Norman Gordon, Michael David, Lois Van Epps, Peg Fisk, and Edmond Weinheim. Some of the places our students worked as interns were: Children's Village, Seely Place and Greenville Elementary Schools, the Greenburg Nature Center and in the Big Brother Programs. The class topics were selected by the student body.

Dear Michael,

Well I guess I put this off long enough so I thought I'd write, but what?! Mind you Bad - this is off, the top of my head - no draft, no list, no plan! - Very ~~unk~~ unlike me! Oh well. I don't know what to write - I can't even begin to tell you how happy I am that you cared enough at David Haas' to hear my problems about Umy + Eric. And boy were you in for problems - the next couple of weeks you would become my psychiatrist. Thank you. You were there for me at a time where I was trying to find myself, and of course you are still there for me. You know I will always be there for you. I love when you share personal [redacted] feelings with me. Even if they are [redacted] things that are hard to talk about. You still make me feel special.

We really got to know each other over April vacation. Sorry if I got into you hair too much, but I knew we would click, well more like I would grow on you. I think we must have seen thirty movies from that time up until now. I have even gotten you into the habit of identifying the actors from other movies. No way! — WAY!

These past few months with you have really been positive ones for me, thanks to you my guardian angel! No more [redacted] smoking! You also taught me to put out a candle w/my fingers, drive stick again, and to do what I think is right no matter what anyone else says.

Varsity Baseball
Spring 1986

Last year's Varsity Baseball team suffered through another disappointing season, compiling a rather unimpressive record of 4-15. Coach Rocky Pasquale had a very young team consisting of many underclassmen. Although they did not have many wins, they did have some impressive moments. The team was led by Senior Geoff Raicht, who was excellent at catcher and pitcher. Junior Steve Friedlander at second base and pitcher received All League honors for his superb performance throughout the season.

Other major contributors included Juniors David Haas, a strong outfielder, and Greg Lippmann who contributed his power hitting, and sophomore Robert Murray at first base. Their season ended well when the Panthers defeated the last four out of five teams they played. Hopefully with a year's experience, they will be able to compile a winning record next year.

The 1986 Junior Varsity team concluded the season with an improved record of 5-8. This young team coached by Scott Viola encountered a lot of tough competition against teams such as Irvington and Pine Plains. Leaders of the team included Howard Neuthaler, Jon Vogel, Kevin Kelly, and Satoru Yamaguchi. The Panthers were able to rotate their many strong pitchers. Howard Neuthaler contributed power hitting when needed. Because of a very limited number of players moving up to the Varsity level, next year's team will have the experience they need and hopefully a winning season.

J.V. Softball

It was a frustrating season for the 1986 Varsity Softball team, one which included many close games ending in a defeat for Edgemont by only one or two runs. With the help of Coach Ben Abramson, the team's enormous potential was developed; however, it was checked by weak hitting and inexperienced pitching. An intense game against arch rival Ardsley highlighted the season. Edgemont was losing 11-0 on their home field but caught up miraculously and tied the score. The game was taken into extra innings when Edgemont was unfortunately defeated by one run, but the effort shone throughout the game. Leading the team this season were senior tri-captains Mindy Neuthaler, Stephanie Tan, and Jeanine Kleinberg. All three made excellent contributions in the field and Neuthaler picked up an All Section title. Power hitting was supplied by junior Janine Madaffari. Other key players included senior Marni Robin, sophomore Yumi Kiuchi, and freshman pitcher Diana Shapiro.

The Junior Varsity Softball team ended their season with a record of 7-5. Coached by Mike Macci, the young team had an exciting season. With players such as Caroline Darlington as pitcher, Sarah Litt as an outfielder and Teresa Hsiao as the catcher, their team had a lot of spunk. More importantly, they had the ability to work together and win, beating teams like North Salem and Briarcliff.

Varsity Tennis

As Kenny Peng steps up to the service line ready to serve, he bounces the ball three times in order to transfix his mind into a total state of concentration. He tosses the ball gently into the air, and the ball hovers over his head for what seems an eternity. Then the racquet which is perfectly synchronized with the ball, finally makes contact. A cannon-like shot is echoed as the ball sails over the net at M.A.C.H. 1 approaching its destiny. As the ball crash lands in the left corner of the service box, the opponent from Bronxville hurls his body toward the ball in order to prevent such a quick point loss. He barely connects with the ball, and so it barely dribbles over the net. In response, Kenny charges the net for a pinpoint put-away shot in the right corner of the base line.

The result, an undefeated record of 16-0 for Varsity Tennis coached by Mr. Jim Hogan. Players such as All County All League player Kenny Peng, who played first singles in his sophomore year, were the cause of the impressive record. Some other unstoppable players included Larry Roth and Dave Menko at first doubles, Peter Lowy and Wataru "The Guch" Yamaguchi, Mpiko Ntsheke at second singles, Mike "Boris Becker" Bodman, Kenny Fried, and of course Satoshi Fujii.

There is a feeling of tension in the air as Pelham's second doubles team serves to our team of sophomore Steve Chang and freshman George Rho. The server pounds a serve to Steve's backhand which quickly answers it with a devastating cross-court. The server, unable to believe the power and speed of the object hurtling towards his feet, shields himself with his racquet in defense. As Steve and George charge the net, the ball is blooped into the air. Then George calls Steve off the ball as he unleashes a shot which drills the ball cross-court at the other opponent's feet.

Coached by Jim San Marco, the team compiled a flawless record of 8-0. The rest of the team consisted of Jeff Sternberg at first singles, Eric Oppenheimer at second singles, Ted Seides and Danny Strum at first doubles, and Mark Weinstein at third singles.

Under the guidance of coaches Howie Richter and Steve Rubenstein, the 1986 Boys' Spring Track team successfully ran along with another undefeated season. Led by team captain Pat Marchand, the boys had many strong dual meet victories over such schools as Ardsley, Pleasantville, North Salem, Hamilton, and Dobbs Ferry. The rest of the team consisted of freshmen Vlad Acevedo and Eric Frey; sophomores Chris Jahrmarkt, Rob Moyle, Jon Bass and Ed Wu; and juniors Jason "B.T.R.H." Zemmel, Dan Schorr, Mark Eberle, and Enver Acevedo. The leaders of the team, though, were seniors Gavin Albert, Syd Cash, Adam Frey, Tom Magardino, and Dan Katzive. This large group of runners has proven to be very effective in winning their seasonal meets, along with having three All-League runners — Pat Marchand, Dan Katzive and Syd Cash. Though the graduating seniors will be sorely missed, due to the team's good coaching, talent, and hard work, they hope to continue their winning ways by putting in the time and effort needed for success.

The Girls' Spring Track team has exceeded all expectations this season. Instructed by Coaches Howie Richter, Steve Rubenstein, and Taffy Gebhart, the girls ran away with an awesome undefeated season. The team is extremely young, there being only two seniors and many freshmen and sophomores. This should make the team strong in future years.

The team consisted of freshmen Michelle Madaffari, Lauren Berman, Joanne Schweil, Nicole Memoli, and Kathy Vaughn; sophomores Jackie Vaida, Fabiola Dominguez, Caroline Rabinovitch, Lauren Fischer, and junior Miriam Rabinovitch. The success of the team is summed up well by Michelle Madaffari. She said, "We have a lot of good runners with potential. Our season's success is owed to the girls who come out every afternoon and work themselves to death in order to be the best." For these reasons, the girls' track team not only is strong now but will be for many years to come.

Golf

The 1986 Golf team, coached by Mr. Paul Solomon, had quite a successful season. Led by captains John Maibach and Will Hong, the team finished second to Briarcliff in the league. Other members, senior Hiro Kiuchi and sophomores Mario Ricci and Ed Hong, helped the team earn a record of 11-3. Both John and Will continued on to sectionals. Because the team consisted of only eleven members, seven of whom were seniors, next year's team is expected to be very young. Hopefully, they will have good fortune in their new league.

Varsity Lacrosse

The 1986 Varsity Lacrosse team, coached by Carol Miner, finished the season with a 5-10 record. Many problems such as loss of crucial seniors as well as loss due to injury plagued the team, but they worked well around the problems. Starting off strong with wins over Horace Mann and Mamaroneck, the team eventually won three more games but lost to many larger schools such as Nyack and Suffern, who eventually went on to compete in the sectional tournament. The highlight of Edgemont's season was the Byram Hills game in which high scorers Lynn Auth and Christine Chiu led the Panthers to victory. The team worked together in this game to come out on top. Other season high scorers included senior Kim Bernstein and junior most valuable player Meme Yamashita. Edgemont's offense was led by Joanne Park, Jeanette Brown, and Courtney Shapiro, while Mignonette Chiu, Suzanne Berman, and Julie Resnick shone on defense. First year goalie Betsy Tietjen did a fine job in her new position. Although the results do not reflect the effort, the team improved as the season progressed and hopes to do better next year.

Although they were probably the hardest-working spring team, the junior varsity lacrosse team was not adequately rewarded for their extra efforts. They ran hard, played hard, and even practiced during the wee hours of Saturday morning but won only five games and lost twice that number. This disappointing record was due partly to the fact that Edgemont was playing teams of schools two and three times their size. Taking this into consideration, the team did well. More than half the team members were first-year players and were joined by a new coach, Maggie Bryant. Team standouts included freshman Kaori Nakamura, and sophomores Rachel Dubow and Danielle DeMaio on offense. Second-year starter Katherine Burger contributed to the team effort on the offense as well as Julie Kaye, who stood out for the defensive line. The team had a tough and frustrating season this year, but with a strong coach and hours of practice and experience behind them, they should be a powerful team in the future.

Varsity Football
Fall 1986

As the sounds of "charge" played by the marching band and the cheers of the crowd fade out, senior quarterback Umy Zia lets out a series of battle cries to ready his offensive linemen for attack. Like a trumpeter who signals a cavalry to war, Zia cries, "Down!", and his human wall drops to a three-point stance and his fullbacks Jim Pitaro and Chris Jahrmarkt prepare to launch foward. Zia releases another cry: "Set!", and the human wall waits for its chance to devastate the opposing line. "Hutt one! Hutt two!" The battle attack is launched! Zia fades back, fakes the handoff to Pitaro and fakes a pitch to Jahrmarkt, which totally throws off the defense. Zia drifts to the right to find receiver Dave Koch open after running a twelve-yard down and out. As Zia gets ready to pass, two enemy linemen push through, only to be crushed by seniors Greg Florio and Chip Waldrup. Zia, with Koch in sight, unleashes the ball directly into Koch's hands. The pass is complete, but the battle is not over. Koch weaves in and out of two safeties, only to find another in front of the goal line. Senior Woody Hong throws himself into the enemy, securing the touchdown!

Fantasy? No; this was reality in 1986. The result was an amazing 6-3 record. Coaches Terry Smith, Steve Rubenstein and John Nevens produced players such as Jim Pitaro, who was All-League and M.V.P.; Chip Waldrup, All-League and All-Section Honorable mention; Dave Koch, All-League; and All-League Honorable mentions Rob Moyle, Chris Jahrmarkt, Greg Florio and Umy Zia.

Freshman Football

It's fourth down with 1:15 left on the clock in the fourth quarter. Dobbs Ferry has the ball on the three-yard line. The score at this point is 12 Dobbs Ferry, 18 Edgemont. Dobbs Ferry has just come out of their huddle and are ready to attack . . . but waiting at the line of scrimmage is Edgemont's awesome defensive force.

The Dobbs Ferry Quarterback steps up to the ball and starts the battle! The quarterback starts to drift back and fakes a handoff to his fullback. Meanwhile Fran Hata, freshman left tackle, manhandles his offensive opposition and penetrates through the offensive line. Fran forces the quarterback to the right, where Justin Scher and J. J. Holland have also broken through the line and are waiting to demolish the quarterback. As the Q.B. catches sight of three defensive demons whose only purpose is to make the QB eat dirt, he fades back to the eight-yard line. As Fran, Justin, and J. J. near their prey, the Q.B., as a last resort, throws a short pass to his fullback at the two-yard line. Eighth grade safety Chris O'Brian hurls his body into the fullback, and the fullback lies devastated on the ground.

With the team being led by tri-captains Adam Scheier, Sam Chung, and Danny Hwang, their record was an incredible 5-1-1. Coaches Ken Orce, Scott Liola, and Cal Bedford were responsible for the devastating running force consisting of Jo Hsu and Toshi Masumizu. Edgemont's future in football may have come to see a new light.

Varsity Tennis

J.V. Tennis

The 1986 Girls' Varsity Tennis team ended their season with a second place finish in the League, losing only to Pelham. Due to the switch from "C" to "B" league, the team faced new and tougher opponents, but obviously they were not greatly hurt. Led by Senior Captains Dana Julien and Joy Mastrantonio, the team won impressive matches against Nyack and Byram Hills. Seniors Suzanne Berman, and Rachel Holzman shared a successful season in the first doubles position, receiving Most Improved Player and MVP, respectively. The pair was seeded second in the league and qualified for Sectionals. Other Sectionals qualifiers included: Dana Julien in the first singles slot, and Jessica Weiss and Meme Yamashita, the second doubles pair. Third singles player Tomoko Yonezu also excelled in her position and contributed to the team's success. Unfortunately, the tennis team will suffer a tremendous loss due to the graduation of many seniors. The future seems uncertain. The 1987 team will be a young group who will have to face the challenge of upholding a tradition of success.

Every day, trains pump up their engines and speed down the track to reach their destination, while the Edgemont Cross Country team pumps up their muscles, speeding down the track to reach the finish line. The 1986-87 Cross Country team had a successful season, finishing fifth in their league. Coach Garland Brown, an experienced runner but new to coaching, provided the team with guidance and enthusiasm, with the help of senior co-Captains Dan Schorr and Mark Eberle.

The exceptional teamwork displayed throughout the season accounted for their success. Eberle, one of Edgemont's finest runners, had a very impressive record. Schorr, another strong runner, was selected for All-County, All-League and competed at States. Senior Jason Zemmel's hard work and dedication added to the team's success. Other team members who performed well included Kenny Peng, Teddy Seides and Darren Wu.

The 1986-87 Girls' Cross Country team consisted of six committed and motivated runners: Captains Julie Sternbach, Caroline Rabinovitch and Lauren Fischer, freshmen Annie Seigenthaler and Pam Pinkus and Carla Bass, an eighth grader. Seigenthaler's first year as a member of the team proved her ability for running, earning her selection to All-League and as an alternate for States. Rabinovitch and Sternbach ran their personal bests this season.

One highlight of the season was the Edgemont Track team's victory over Ardsley in their first meet. Some off-the-track highlights for both teams included the Pep Rally . . . Cookie Puss . . . and intense mud meets.

The 1986-87 Volleyball team, which returned with no starters from last year, comprised an unimpressive record of 2-12. Although the girls won only two games, many of the losses were by one or two points. Coach Diane Cropsey, an experienced player, led the team with enthusiasm. The highlight of the team's season was against Byram Hills.

This year's team was led by sophomore co-Captains Jill Weiss and Diana Shapiro. Filling out the rest of the starting line-up were senior Yukiko Shiomi, sophomores Masami Ashimura, Kathy Tan and Wakako Sakai, and freshman Lia Emanuel. Individual merits were given to Diana Shapiro, who received All-Section Honorable mention and to Jill Weiss and Kathy Tan, who both received All-League Honorable mention.

This year's team, the youngest in the league, had the determination and skills to make a winning team, but lacked experience. They made the best of it and had a lot of fun.

The newest addition to Edgemont's sports roster is the Girls' Varsity Soccer team. Although they ended their third season in existence with a 4-10-2 record, the team put in a lot of effort and had a great time. The high point of the season was reaching and playing in the Sectional tournament, where they lost a hard-fought game to Albertus Magnus. The backbone of the team was sophomore superstar Gabby Caruso. She scored an impressive sixteen out of eighteen team goals, earning her the MVP award. She will be a strong asset to the team in future years. Other goals were scored by junior Sara Litt and senior Debbie Fishman, two strong players. Other team standouts included Tonja Krautter in the halfback position, and Kathy Vaughan, who played goalie. This pair worked together to provide a strong defensive wall. In addition, Mayu Nagafuji received the Coaches Award for her successful contributions to the team. With more experience and rising stars on the J.V. team who should contribute to next year's effort, the future looks bright for this up and coming team.

Varsity Soccer

After they lost ten starters from last year's Section I championship team to graduation, people did not know what to expect from Edgemont's Varsity Soccer Team this year. Fortunately, a group of skilled and dedicated veterans from last year's team were able to combine with a group of hardworking rookies to create a team that finished the season with a 9-5-4 record. Through his patience and teaching, Coach Jim San Marco was able to bring his team to the Sectional semi-finals.

This year's team had its share of both highlights and low points. The team started out well, winning their first two games practically unchallenged. In the team's third game against Pelham, a team who had boasted a 6-0 record, Edgemont finally met their first challenge. After a toss-up goal and a penalty shot, Edgemont found themselves down 2-0 with less than six minutes left to play in regulation. At this point, Edgemont's magic prevailed as team tri-captain Mike Bodman scored a pair of goals to tie the game for good. Edgemont then continued on the winning track, beating such teams as Ardsley, Eastchester and Nanuet. Then, when everything looked as if Edgemont was on a roll, they met Byram Hills. After the two regulation halves, the game was a dead-lock 0-0, and in the second overtime period Byram Hills scored a fluke goal off a rebound shot, handing Edgemont their first regular season loss in the past four seasons. After this game, Edgemont headed into the second half of the season with their heads down, but their hopes high. In the team's second game against Pelham, Edgemont lost All-Section captain David Haas for the season due to a knee injury caused by his collision with the Pelham goalie. After this loss, Edgemont's league-championship dreams seemed out of sight. At the end of the regular season, Edgemont entered the Section I Class C tournament with a record of 7-4-3, thus seeding them eight out of sixteen teams.

The Panthers first faced Pauling, the 16th seed team. Edgemont easily dominated this game, leaving Pauling down by a score of 4-0. Next, Edgemont faced arch-rival Blind Brook. Behind the strong play by goalie Darren Hubert and mid-fielder Dave Menko, Edgemont won in a shut-out game which they only had to tie in order to advance to the semi-finals of the tournament. In a long, hard battle, Edgemont accomplished what they had to do, as they tied the undefeated first seed team 0-0. Next, Edgemont played Tuckahoe in the Semi's and after a hard, tough game, they found themselves on the short end of the stick by the unfortunate score of 2-1, thus putting an end to their season.

Despite a seemingly disappointing season, Edgemont made many contributions to the All-League and All-Section selections. Chosen as Honorable Mention All-League were seniors David Menko, Darren Hubert, and Sophomore Kevin Kelly. Dan Schapiro, Peter Lowy, Mike Bodman, and David Haas were also selected to the All-League team, with David Haas also making the All-Section squad. Due to the abundance of youth on this year's squad, next year should be another dominating year for Edgemont Soccer.

J. V. Soccer

For the second year in a row, the Edgemont J.V. Soccer Team was league champion. High hopes began the year as players Anthony Magardino, Jim Zankel, and Greg Schier were named captains. Under Zankel's aggressive leadership, Magardino's high speed play and Schier's dependable goal scoring, the Panthers concluded with an excellent 12-1 record. Coach Jose Calderone led the team to a 9-0 start before the Panthers lost to a tough Pearl River team. The highlight of the season was the win over Byram Hills in which the team emerged as the victor with a 8-0 shut-out. Excitement flourished as Magardino, Schier, and Andy Robb knocked in many "clutch" goals at desperate moments. Likewise, Zankel performed well with his first diving header of the season. Other standouts during the season included freshmen Eric Levy and Jeff Herzog, as well as Sophomores Paul Eberle, George Rho and Chris Lorch. Even with many players leaving for the varsity next year, the team will have no problem keeping up with the previous team's accomplishments.

Field Hockey

The success of the 1986-87 Field Hockey team came as a pleasant surprise to everyone. Coached by Mary Raciborski, the team broke its three and a half year losing streak against Nanuet High School. Captain Jen McCormick, the team's top scorer and All-League, scored the winning goal. Captains Mignonette Chiu, who received All-Section, Elizabeth Lockwood, who received All-League Honorable Mention, and Jennie Burger, enabled the team to be more offensive with their defensive skills, and kept the goal well protected. First year player Alex Franceschi came to the rescue for the team's need for a goalie. Through the teaching of Coach Raciborski, Franceschi helped the team to keep its lead and beat Nanuet. Captain Christina Chiu, with the help of Nicole Deutsch, scored and led the team to two wins against Pearl River. Danielle DeMaio and Andrea DelDuca, both first year players, caught on quickly and became aggressive, skillful players. The team ended the season with a record of 3-8-2, more members than ever before, and a new-found sense of accomplishment.

Boys' Basketball Winter 1987

This years Varsity Basketball team, coached by Doug Tuttle, finished with a record of 3-16. The main setback was the fact that no one on the team was over six feet tall. The strategy used by Coach Tuttle to combat this setback was the use of a pressure defense. He wanted to strengthen the defense due to their weak offense.

The starting line up this season consisted of Jimmy Pitaro, David Haas, Howard Neuthaler, Umi Zia, Dan Shapiro, and back up Steve Chang. Sophomore Kevin Kelly also brought great support to the team. The highlight of their season was the awesome game against our arch-rival Ardsley. They played an exceptionally tough game, and with the help of Umi Zia, who scored at the last second, they were able to beat Ardsley with a close score of 54-53.

Even though the team did not have the most successful season, David Haas and Jimmy Pitaro received the honor of both Most Valuable Player and All-League. The younger members of the team do have potential and with the support of their coach hopefully next season will prove to be a better one.

The 1986-87 Varsity Girls' Basketball team, coached by Ben Abramson and assisted by coach Mike Macci, "did not lose games; the clock ran out. They just didn't have enough time to win." Although they ended the season with a final score of 4-16, and placed seventh in their league, the team participated in sectionals against Hastings because of their good skills and competitiveness.

This year's team was led by co-captains "Aggressive" Mayu Nagafuji and "Speedy" Mig nonette Chiu. Both captains will be graduating this year after participating on the team and attributing their good skills for many years. Unfortunately this years team was very inexperienced. The bulk of the team consisted of sophomores Alison Ehrmann, Jill Weiss, Misako Matsuda, Gabriel Caruso, Masami Ashimura, and Laura Kresse. Every team has its good and bad games, but the team proved to be very competitive, and had a lot of perseverance. They never stopped fighting until the clock ran out. Since most of the team will be returning next year, the Varsity Girls' Basketball team of 1987-1988 should be a strong and successful team. If the team continues at its current pace of development, great things may be expected of this group in the years to come.

Finishing the season with a fairly impressive record of 8-10, the Girls' J.V. Basketball team developed into an awesome team. This year's new coach, Paul Solomon, was very pleased with the season and felt they made a lot of progress. With Solomon's concern for each player, and vast knowledge of the game, he was able to nurture the talent of the skilled players.

This strong young force was led by guards Emi Kiuchi and Kristen Solomon. Both players are quite skilled, and they had a very impressive season. Eighth grader Dineo Brinson and ninth grader Alexander Franceschi provided a firm foundation of strength. The team, which consisted of six eighth graders was hurt by the much larger teams who had older, more experienced players. But, the players learned a lot and always maintained their team spirit. There is much hope for next years season.

Winter Track

Winter Track is composed of three different types of runners: sprinters, middle distance runners, and long distance runners. Both girls and boys track this year had enough of a turnout in order to enable them to compete in all events.

Girls Track, coached by Bert Mahn and asst. Seth Geisslen ended their season third in the league. With junior Jackie Vaida leading the sprinters, Anne Seigenthaler leading the relay teams, and senior tri-captain Julie Sternbach leading the long distance, the runners had a greater incentive to try a little harder to make the team better. Other important contributors to the team were senior Natasha Du-Bois, Miriam Rabinovitch, junior tri-captain Lauren Fischer and sophomores Sonya Benisovich and Lauren Berman. Other members of the team were Lara Murialdo, Suzanne Berman, Courtney Shapiro, and Debbie Yerman.

Boys' Track led by senior Tri-Captains Dan Schorr, Mark Eberle, and Jason Zemmel placed fourth in the league. With other members such as junior Chris Jahrmarkt leading the sprinters, freshman Darren Wu a young mid-distance runner showing much potential, and freshman Adam Halper who is predicted to be Edgemont's finest runner in the future, will be the foundation of next years team. Although Boys' Track had many young inexperienced runners, they had a very successful season which will continue through the spring.

Gymnastics

The fourteen members of Edgemont's Varsity Gymnastics squad started out strong and kept getting stronger as the season progressed. The team ended their fifth consecutive undefeated season with an 8-0 record, bringing their overall record to a total of 56-0.

In spite of their success, victory was never a certainty for Edgemont's tumblers. They began the season with two strikes against them. The first was losing an All-Section performer to graduation. The second was moving up from the "C" league to more challenging "B" league competition. Yet these obstacles seemed to work to their advantage. Each team member used her full potential throughout the season, and as the challenge got bigger, the gymnasts performed better. Representative of this trend was the incredible 109.8-100.8 win over formerly undefeated rival Port Chester. The other league rival, Eastchester, fell to Edgemont in a close final meet of the season. Other highlights included Edgemont's landmark 50-0 win over Horace Greeley; and the Divisional meet, which Edgemont hosted for the first time.

Much of the team's success can be attributed to coaches Mary Raciborski and Cindy Moeller, whose efforts earned her recognition as "Coach of the Year". This year's team featured sophomore Noriko Masui, who contributed the most team points to earn All-Section honors. All-League honors went to all-around performers senior Abby Levy, junior Tonja Krautter, and eighth grader Dawn Scoppa. All-League Honorable Mention went to senior Jeanette Brown and sophomore Kaori Nakamura. Other talented performances were contributed by senior Lynne Gutstein, sophomore Michelle Madaffari, freshmen Adina Kim, Elena Caffentzis and Andrea Rosenthal, and eighth graders Liz Feldinger, Sara Seides, and Alyssa Verdicchio.

Due to the loss of senior tri-captains Jeanette Brown, Lynne Gutstein, and Abby Levy, next year's team will be very young. However, with their talent, they are certain to remain strong and become even more powerful.

Ice Hockey

For the first time in Edgemont history, the Panthers had a varsity hockey team. Under the guidance of coaches Steve Gordon and Joe Formica, the team fought an uphill battle the entire season. Captains Darren Hubert and Eric Gelfand led the team through a tough season. Heading into the season, the Panthers had only five experienced skaters and a rookie goalie, Greg Skolnick.

The Panthers opened the season against Eastchester. The team lost 10-3 but a good effort was put forth. Over the course of the season, the Panthers improved greatly and many coaches around the league acknowledged the vast improvement. On the ice, the team was led by high scorers Darren Hubert, Jon Vogel, Eric Gelfand, Peter Lowy, and Danny Strum. One of the team's best performances was against Valhalla. Going into the third period, there was a 4-4 tie. Due to lack of able players, the team lost all energy and lost the battle 7-4. By the end of the season, the team had made vast improvements and should be better next year when, and if, they merge with Scarsdale High School. With an abundance of returning players, including Jimmy "Killer" Zankel, Yasushi Masui, and Greg Skolnick, next year's team looks promising.

Wrestling

The score — Ardsley 33, Edgemont 27. Edgemont has just lost the last match, giving Ardsley the lead by 3 points. There is only one more match and Edgemont needs a pin for six points. The match will be senior John Simolaca, a first-year wrestler, versus Ardsley's Captain, Saffrin. The Ardsley fans begin to chant, "Nay, nay, nay, nay, Hey Edgemont, say goodbye!" The pressure goes on John.

As the first period starts, Saffrin shoots at Simolaca and takes him down. Their bodies crash to the mat with John pretzeled on the bottom. As the referee gives Saffrin two points for the takedown, he forces Simolaca onto his back. The Ardsley crowd goes wild, chanting "Pin! Pin! Pin!" but Simolaca twists out. After another near-pin, the first period ends — Ardsley 5, Edgemont 0.

The second period was no different. Simolaca did manage to escape with one point, but as the score was Ardsley 7- Edgemont 1, all seemed lost. The Ardsley crowd began to chant again, and as Simolaca hears it, power surges through his body. He takes Saffrin's body, throws it into the air and crashes it onto the mat. This time Edgemont is on top. The Edgemont wrestlers and fans go wild; now it is Edgemont's turn to chant. The crowd stamps against the bleachers in synchronization, chanting, "Pin! Pin! Pin!" The referee's hand is wavering in the air, ready to signal a pin. Simolaca thrusts full force against Saffrin for what seems an eternity. Finally the referee's hand pounds against the mat, signalling a pin and another win for Edgemont. This elite group of wrestlers was led by Coach Gabe Gouveia and assistant Coach Dave Massi. Tri-captains Chip Waldrup — All Section, Mike Norris — All League, and Rob Moyle — All League, led Edgemont to an incredible 8-1-1 record. Other outstanding performers were All-League Greg Florio and Starfinder Stanley, and All-League Honorable Mention Mark Lippman, John Simolaca, and Mike Altholz, who unbelievably wrestled three matches with a broken ankle. What is Edgemont's fate in wrestling? Just remember — "Another one bites the dust."

Michael,

It's been great getting to know you this year. You're a great guy, don't ever change. Have a ball in college! I'm sure you'll do fine + make lots of friends! Don't be nervous, you'll go far in life. Always trust in yourself, and never have a doubt, that way nothing will go wrong. Come back and visit us, we love you,

Joelle! :) xox.

On the other hand, I don't know how good my devil side was for you. I'm sure you mom loved my bad influences - "Oh what a nice ring! I'm so embarrassed. I also don't think Matthew likes me anymore, but Philip does. Thank god. My parents love you, but you have to convince them to let me go visit you at Stanford! We should just explain to them that we are getting married and everything should be ok. Then, I mean I definitely want a red mercedis convertable. Have you picked your car yet?

These are from Jenni - Miiiiklkke! No, you don't understand! How many? - 8 thousand Hello (in a very inquisative voice) like ~~xo~~ and um. But it's ok we all say little things, I just said them more when I was nervous around you. Not anymore. Now you hide and scare me or make my paranoia come out more. But don't worry because I love it! (turn to Jr. Class officers)

Dear Michael,
I hope you've been having a great summer. What you wrote in my yearbook made me cry. (Please don't laugh) I'll always remember you. Jenny told me how you and her laughed about what I wrote about Eric Hertz

I hope you have a great time in Stanford, I know you will. I might see you again when we visit during Christmas. I'll never forget you.

Love,
Elizabeth

Dear Friends,
No more headache. Well, here goes... The reason why I am having such a difficult time writing yours is because there are not a whole bunch of special times I want to reminisce on but a whole bunch of feelings I want to express and therefore, that makes it a lot harder. I think this year our friendship really changed. I feel there are very few people whose personalities stay constant when they are with their guy-friends and then their girlfriends. Yours doesn't change, and, in fact I'm not the only person To Courtney and her friends — who thinks that... You have always given me the comfort I've needed, the smiles + hugs which cheered me up and. You have shown us what friendship really means. The kind of friendship I feel that is really important. You are going to really succeed in the real world because. The world is waiting for you! of the type of person you are- honesty and caring are two words that came quickly to my mind when I think of you and those two traits will let you go and do and be whatever you want as long as you keep them close to Best wishes to the Class of '87 your heart. I'm really

Love, Ira, Josslyn '90, Barbara and David

Jealous about your new house- enjoy! Think of me when you are sumbling the paint off walls because I'll be thinking of you. I'm really going to miss you - Even though Stanford is far away - my dad will be moving art to California, so expect a visitor, especially if Adam ends up going to Grad school there. When I think of you I think of a person who has a lot of secrets & emotions underneath and a vibrant personality which helps allow them to shine through. I love you! Please keep in touch - or at least try...

Dear Michael,

Bod! We made it big guy. Off to Stanford you go, possibly never returning to Edgemont again. Well, the best thing we can do now is to "remember the past (Mike Bodman, graduation 1987)" Let's see. T was entering the fourth grade, and a man named Peterfried asked you and I to coach the Sixth-grade All-stars. We didn't coach but we shagged balls and enjoyed each others company. We remained friends throughout junior high, and then came eleventh grade biology. Coleus plants was the name, investigating their properties. Although we got a C, it was fun.

In addition, we took French together for six years, from Mrs. Lehr to ~~mrs. Josset~~, definetly the most boring class (Fred, is it almost over, oh no French!), Moreover, Rico was a blast (Fly, birds, pike on fried)! then there were the infamous Bod sayings! "Hey guys we got him!", "Is it good?" "minus the sun" "I know it's uh, no I don't know.) " "yeh it's supposed to) yeh", "well kind of, yeah! (Hofnar) "

Orange whip! Bod, "what are you doink?"

My French accent is great, I don't care what you say.

On the serious side, I am truly honored to have been great friends with you. You are definetly one of a kind, one of the nicest guys I have ever met. You are one of the only guys I know that never says anything bad about anybody, or does anything that you think is wrong. You think for yourself and do to please others as well as you. Stay the same throughout college and you will be the most popular guy on college. Bod, keep in touch. You're a special guy.

Your friend always, Kenny T.

"They had entered the thorny wilderness and the go es of their childhood had forever closed behind them."
